COLLEGE SONG

We saw a beacon on the shore.
It drew us with its flame.
With eyes that sought an open door,
With seeking minds we came.
We found a fire that lit our own,
That kindled joy within our souls.
And on a thousand vistas shone,
That we might chart high goals.
Bright flare of knowledge
Torch of truth.
Palm Beach Junior College
Hail! Hail!
Unfailing beacon of our youth.
Hail! Alma Mater Hail!

Freshmen

SEPTEMBER

A new term starts and with it a new life for many —and for others a continuation of education which began the year before. For all it means meeting new people, adjusting to the rapidly growing campus life, new and novel ideas, new classes, new books. It all seems so confusing and hectic during this first month of the school calendar.

Purchasing beanies, obtaining car stickers, and filling out forms begin the procedure of registration

REGISTRATION BROUGHT EXCITEMENT TO

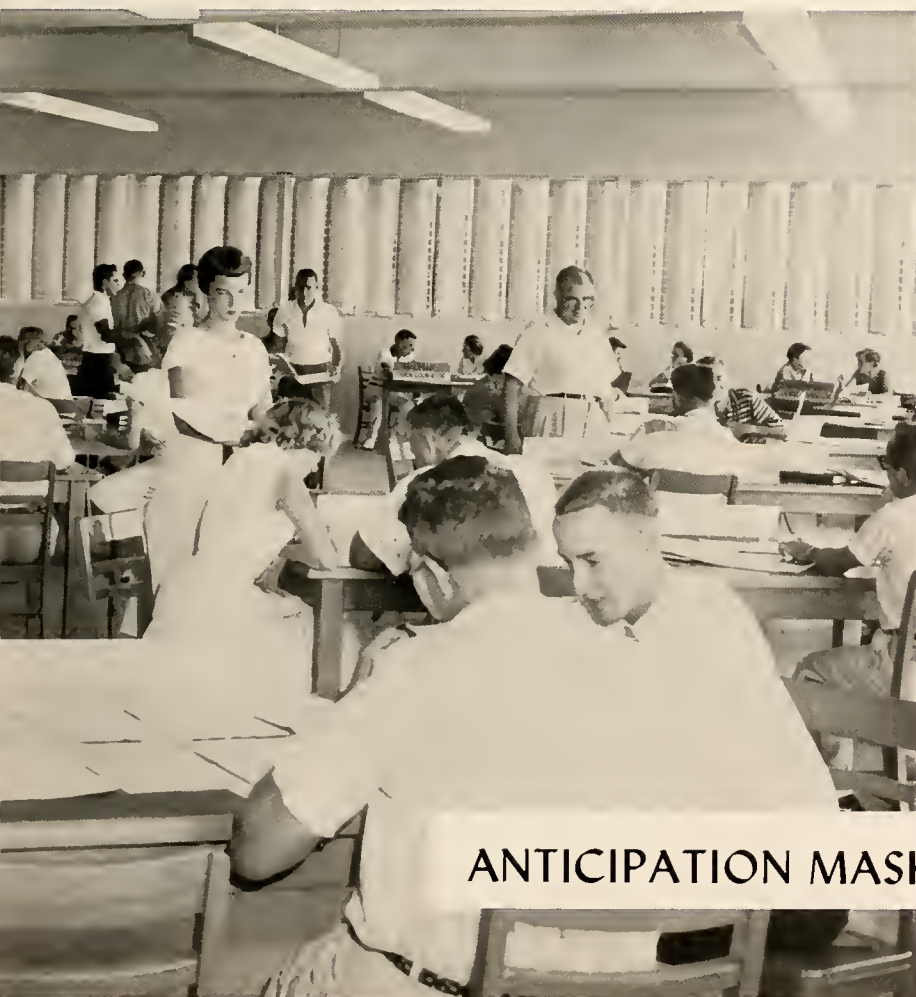

REGISTRATION DAY! Remember how everyone seemed to be dashing around? The freshmen were being oriented into campus life at PBJC. The first thing we did was to register our cars and receive an armful of school regulations and schedule forms. Then we were directed into the conference room. We grabbed a seat, desperately hunted for the pen we thought we had brought, and settled down to fill out the forms. Remember how monotonous it became writing the same information on nearly every form? With that finished, the clerk at the door handed us another form containing a number. He explained that another clerk would call us when the course counselor was ready to see us. While we were consulting the counselors we found them helpful and patient. Some two hours later we visited the finance officer and following a stop at the registrar's desk, our registration was completed. It was a frustrating day; yet, there was a certain anticipation for Monday, the first day of classes when we would meet new friends and embark on our college career.

ever, conversation still crept in.

A ONCE QUIET LIBRARY

ANTICIPATION MASKED FEAR

An attentive freshman audience listens to words of wisdom presented at orientation.

Following the frustration of registration day, we found ourselves seated in the student center with newly-acquired friends. As we listened mindfully to Dr. Leonard's talk our hearts and minds were gathering knowledge that would stimulate our college life. The value of the orientation assembly would linger with us throughout the year and help guide us in important decisions. The student center was packed to the walls and chairs had to be placed in the patio to accommodate the large crowd. Students seated in the patio area faithfully and attentively listened to the speeches regardless of the hot sun's discomfort. Upon completion of the formalities, the freshmen girls remained at the assembly to receive the announcement of their "big sister," who was to guide them through the first quarter of school.

As the girls left the student center, they proceeded to the newly-constructed music building where they were entertained at the Philo sponsored tea. The officers of Thi Del and Philo became better acquainted. The excitement of so many new faces and personalities combined made us look forward to a wonderful year.

Classes finally begin. Students find themselves in a daze trying to find various lecture rooms and laboratories, but as the days move by a routine is established. To students enrolled in science, mathematics, and engineering the walk to and from the science building is a well-traveled one. Once you step into the modern labs you note the type of work done in them.

Microscopes, slides, the odor of formaldehyde, and skeleton samples are all aspects of the laboratory classes.

The slide rule, standard equipment for the engineering majors and for students enrolled in higher mathematics, is a fascinating instrument.

Jim and Joe seem quite content with examining the day's comparative anatomy assignment.

Faculty members at PBJC are always willing to help and advise students whenever necessary. Here Miss Maggard helps special student, Betty Smith.

A break from the serious nature of classes was the annual all-college pool party held at Lido Pools. Splashing, jumping, diving, eating, chatting—all added to the enjoyable event. As the evening progressed the slight hint of rain blossomed into a violent storm. Most of the students headed for cover but the braver lot weathered the storm in the pool. A note of attraction was the large number of JC'ers sporting zories, or as you might call them "shower shoes."

Pool Party

A faithful freshman always wears his beanie.

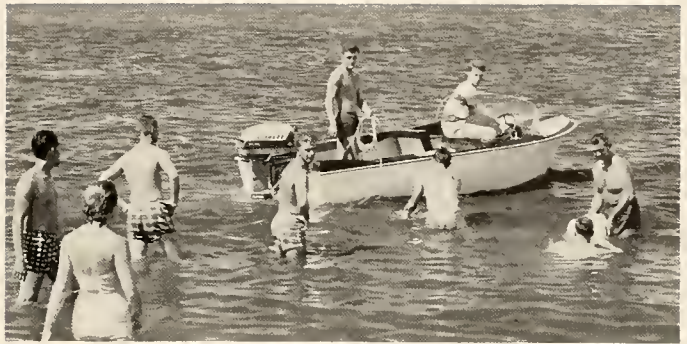

Co-ed President Phyllis Meebold takes charge of serving.

Two events taking place which help students become better acquainted are the CO-ED CLUB PICNIC held early in the school year and the Sunday afternoon activities at Singer Island. Freshmen and sophomores gather at the beach and engage in water skiing, swimming, and learning the fundamentals of aqua lung diving. Picnic lunches add to the interest of the day's festivities.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ACTIVITIES

Get Acquainted Dance

*A*s sophomores and freshmen packed into the American Legion Home, we pushed our way to the dance floor where about all we could do was stand and sway. As the night got older and much warmer, the crowd quieted long enough for the floor show, which was enjoyed by all. Many visits were made to the refreshment table where cake and punch were in much demand. As the evening progressed tables had to be moved to provide additional dancing area. After a few rounds of "Bunny Hop" and a case of "Double Charlie Horse," we made our way to Merletto's, Sportsman's or some other quieter place to rock 'til two or three.

OCTOBER

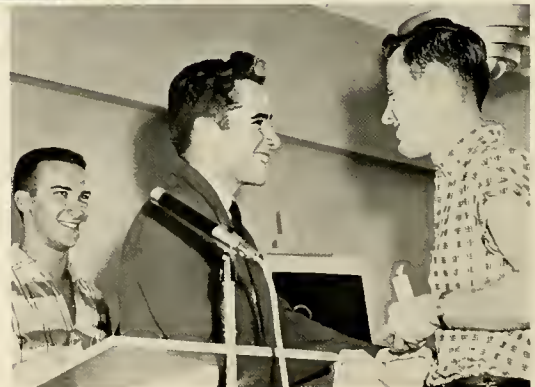

By now the campus and its buildings are a familiar sight to students who have buckled down to studying. The library is a frequented place for busy industrious scholars, and the student center with its juke box tunes and casual surroundings provides relaxation between classes.

An impressive ceremony and one full of suspense is the traditional tapping ceremony for pledges into PHI THETA KAPPA, the honorary scholastic organization for Junior Colleges. As the music starts, a hush descends upon the members of the audience as they turn and look at each other, wondering who will be inducted. Heads strain and students express sighs of pleasure as Kappa member, Tom Paul, hands a candle to Jim O'Hara.

One of five sophomores tapped during the first semester, Sylvia Norwid reflects the happiness and surprise which is typical of a new pledge. Ronnie Schutta, Kappa president, has many duties but one of the most pleasant is greeting pledges like Jim Thomas into the organization. As the service ended, members and pledges gathered for a group picture, displaying a true example of scholarship and character at PBJC.

FUN, FOOD AND RELAXATION

The blare of the juke box, a multitude of voices, and a general air of confusion is significant of the SUB during the ten o'clock break. PBJC'ers pack around the snack bar, stand in the cafeteria line, or just mix with friends.

CIRCLE K CLUB

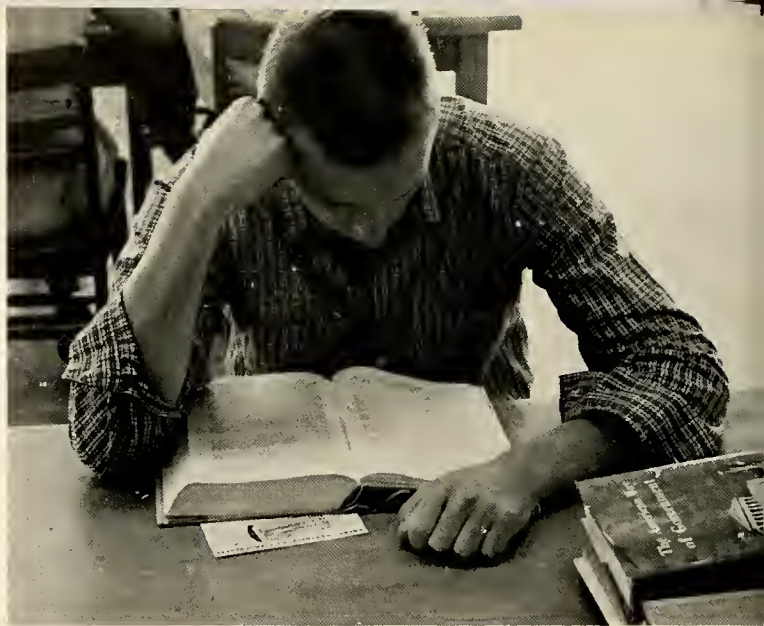

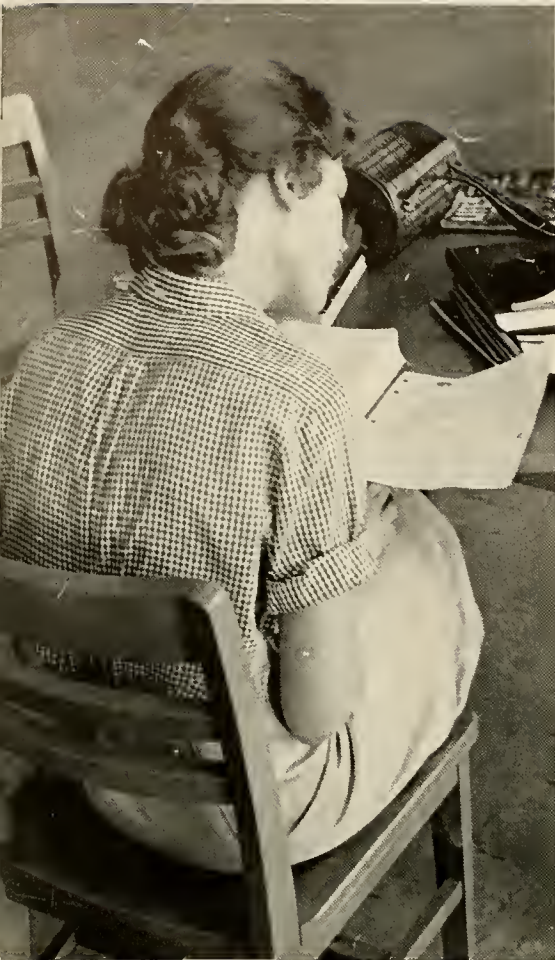

Howard Johnson, Secretary; Curtis Fry, President; Mr. Harvey Ward, Advisor; Tom Kerwin, Treasurer; and Bill Stansbury, Vice President.

One of the main projects of the Circle "K" organization is the beautification of our campus. Members work diligently to make their project a success.

With quarter examinations approaching, the accent was on learning as students diligently tried to seek answers to the many questions that confronted them. Those who had recently been socializing in the lounge headed for the multitude of knowledge found in the library. The thought of those exams nearing transformed emotions. Conference rooms were continually filled with book-laden students and the primary thought in everyone's mind was . . . examinations.

October proved to be an important month for placing Palm Beach Junior College on the map. The SUNBURST AMATEUR RADIO CLUB stimulated an interest in radio transmitting operations. A "Radio Day" was declared and students sent messages to their friends in other states and lands. Mike Pearson, president, headed the organization and controlled the college broadcasting station, W4QFM.

TAKE A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION VOTE FOR Gary MILLER
for SOPHOMORE PRESIDENT

This year the fever of political campaigns hit JC harder than ever before. For almost two weeks the walls and every available space was filled with the posters and campaign propaganda of the candidates. The elections were held and the freshmen and sophomores chose those whom they felt worthy to lead their respective classes.

Students consider the candidates as they register to vote.

The Wednesday night sports program drew a large percentage of PBJC students to Currie Park. This was the scene of the intramural football, softball, and tennis tournaments. One of the highlights of the program was the interfraternity football game between Phi Da Di and Alpha Fi. As the game progressed, student spectators cheered the teams on and anxiously awaited the results of the contest. Other activities taking place in the program were tennis, parallel bar and gymnastic work, and fencing which was introduced to the girls this year. The sports program in many cases constituted the physical education requirements for sophomore students of the college.

NOVEMBER

Quarter exams come and go and with winter around the corner the social season gets underway on campus. Rush week, with its parties and frivolities, get-togethers, formal and informal, organizational meetings and college politics, share the spotlight during this full and busy month.

Danny Gallagher, Treasurer; Sistie Robson, Vice President; Phyllis Meebold, President; Mrs. Taylor, Advisor; and Barbara Rowe, Secretary.

CO-ED CLUB

The get-acquainted picnic and the Sadie Hawkins Day dance are just two of the CO-ED club's many projects throughout the year.

The Co-Ed consists of all the girls of the college and is sponsored by Mrs. Sallie Taylor.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

Sadie Hawkins Day hit PBJC and the menfolk headed for hidin' places. Those guys who were less fortunate and didn't get away, were hitched up with one of the fairer femme fatale by Marryin' Sam. Also on hand at the festive occasion were the usual Dog Patch inhabitants and a few residents of Lower Slobbovia.

All College Picnic

November 11, Veteran's Day, the college student body assembled at DuBois Camp for a picnic. Despite the windy weather the event was successful.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

THI DEL sponsored spaghetti supper held at Howard Park Clubhouse drew a large, hungry crowd. JC'ers poured into the building as the Thi Dels slaved over the stove preparing the dinner.

Another activity of November was the polio inoculation day which attracted the stronger-willed individuals of the college.

Highlighting the month of November was RUSH WEEK. Rush parties, bids, pledge parties—all added to the general excitement of the occasion. For some students it meant disappointment; for others it was a time of much happiness. Various types of pledging materials were seen on the campus.

STUDENT NURSES

BASKETBALL

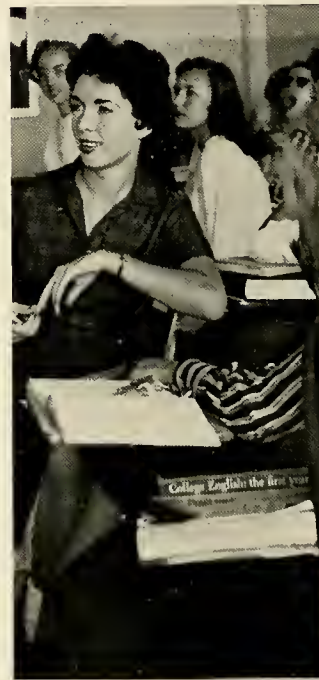

Palm Beach High gym, old stamping ground for many of our cagers, provided an excellent location for the weekly Wednesday night games.

BOWLING

One of the favorite sports activities of JC students is bowling. The Palm Beach Bowl sparked with life as members of the student body assembled at the alleys.

MOODS OF STUDY

HARVEST MOON BALL

This year, Thi Dels' Harvest-Moon Ball was one of the finest ever given. It was held at the Colonnades Hotel and was decorated with the theme "Heaven on Earth."

Pledges serve the delicious punch.

DECEMBER

The Christmas spirit is prevalent on campus with ornaments, decorations, and a special assembly featuring Christmas music. There are formal dances with a festive air, holidays with a long vacation, work and study, but mostly fun.

JUNIOR COLLEGE B-B-Q

On December 1st, the first public B-B-Q and college open house was held at the school. The affair was sponsored by the Southside Kiwanis of West Palm Beach. All the proceeds were used for continuing the beautification of the college campus.

Joe Pucciarelli, Dr. Manor, Bob Stafford, Walter Esterbrook, Dr. Leonard, Lake Lytal.

Members of the Alumni Association view the campus plan which has been projected into the 1967-68 college year.

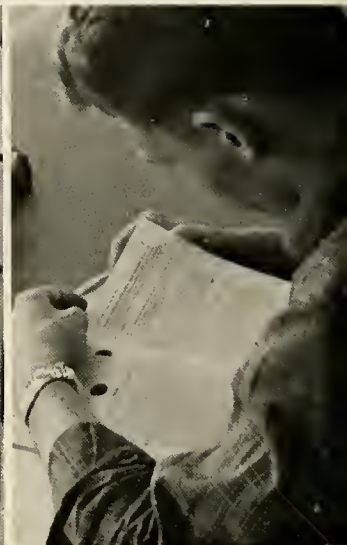

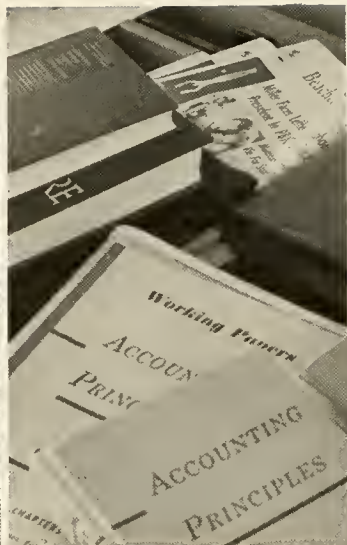

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL DANCE

One of the most successful activities held prior to the Christmas holidays is the IFC dance at which time the prospective members of PBJC's social organizations are introduced. Also during the evening, the presidents of the fraternities presented the presidents of their sister sororities with bouquets.

The laborious deed of finishing freshmen themes made its obvious appearance on the campus as Christmas neared. But the following day thoughts of the theme were replaced by the feeling and spirit of the season as the student body filled the lounge for the Christmas assembly.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY AT PBJC

Varied activities are carried on at junior college. These range from the Phi Da Di, Alpha Fi, and Circle "K" clubs working to clear the shrub and weed entangled lots, to the fun and good spirit of the Student-Alumni Dance.

JANUARY

The New Year dawns and as it begins the student lounge is deserted—but not for long. Soon the students will return and it will once more be swarming with weary students taking time out from studying for semester exams. And then the grades are posted—satisfaction for some, disappointment for others, but relief for all.

MARCH

Better weather and intense study are characteristic of March, This is a time of transition. Evidences of spring are seen but yet winter lingers. Quarter exams plague the campus and then are over. With a sigh of relief students and teachers alike sit back and watch the signs of spring become clearer.

At the beginning of the 1958 school year, a group of men were desirous of developing a new social organization to draw interested members into the spirit of brotherhood. After a long period of planning, the new organization has grown and prospered into a recognized social organization of acceptance and prestige, numbering many campus leaders among its members.

APRIL

The early part of April brings Easter and causes us to meditate and to strive to better ourselves. Later April brings not only showers but increased social activity on campus. Students are seen dashing from class to class and from committee meetings to more committee meetings.

Carol Whitehead, Treasurer; Pat Jones, Secretary; Faith Martin, President; Sandra Munson, Vice President; and Mr. Charles Sutherland, Advisor.

Faith and Mr. Sutherland plan several of the clubs' varied activities.

The STUDENT FLORIDA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION is comprised of those students wishing to become teachers and is associated with the FLORIDA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION to which all teachers and college professors belong.

Seated, left to right: Faith Martin, Carol Whitehead, Pat Jones, Sandra Munson. Standing: Trudi Bush, Gail Wright, Judy Manning, Pat Burnett, Al Morgan, Mr. Sutherland, Bill Alyea, Jennie Roach, Ruth Williams, Lynn Hartshorn, and Mary Sempepos.

ARTISTS AND MODELS COSTUME BALL

Sponsored by the Art Department and Circle K Club, the Artists and Models Ball was a panorama of color, gaiety, and excitement as displayed in the costumes and decorations. The festive evening was originated by the art students in 1957.

MEMBERS: Nancy Hood, Pat Toth, Sandra Culling, Pat Nebel, Roselynn Glatter, Glenda Dunnam, Jackie Pishinick, Babs Verre, Dottie Burns, Danny Gallagher.

MAY

The term is rapidly coming to a close and soon the halls will be empty and another school year will be history. But before that there is much studying and worrying about final exams which are looked forward to with dread and determination. It is the home stretch, 'though it seems unbelievable.

JUNE . . . and graduation. Perhaps then, more than ever, we are closer in spirit. Baccalaureate, recognition night, the sophomore breakfast and graduation . . . and so the class of '58 leaves PBJC. The friends, the good times, the worrying and studying of exams, the activities—these have been a part of our lives these past two years—and they have never seemed so dear as now. But we must go on to new horizons.

Mrs. Esther Holt, sophomore class advisor, worked untiringly to make these graduation activities pleasant memories for the class of 1958. Her unselfish contributions are greatly appreciated by this graduation class.

The stirring sermon and wise words of baccalaureate and graduation as well as recognition night, with its awards to outstanding sophomores, and the breakfast—are now history but will live in our memories for years to come.
